

HOISA presents its second panel on

Observing Heatwaves, in light of adaptation and mitigation

Continuing further regional observations on how the heatwaves have been impacting the people and ecology in South Asia, this panel will energetically bring the discussion on adaptation and mitigation to the centre point. How must South Asia, in all its complexities and contradictions, observe these aspects? What can be done about it now and in the immediate future and who and how must adaptation and mitigation activities be carried out?

Panel Speakers

DR. AJIT TYAGI

President, South Asia Meteorological Association, Senior Advisor at Integrated Research and Action for Development, New Delhi and Chairman of IDC Foundation.

DR. NILADRI GUPTA

Sr. Water Resources Management Specialist, Asian Disaster Preparedness Center.

AKASH GOENKA

Team Leader at Alliance for an Energy Efficient Economy

VISHAL PATHAK

Consultant at All India Disaster Mitigation Institute

May 8, 4 pm IST on Zoom
Free Registration: www.hoisa.org or hoisa.now@gmail.com

